I. DESCRIPTION

The Life Extension Member Rewards Program was created to recognize and reward our members for their support.

As a valued Foundation member, you already receive many benefits that are almost impossible to measure. For example, toll-free access to our knowledgeable advisors, doctors, and oncology experts is an invaluable service most members cherish as the most important advantage of membership. How do you put a monetary value to indispensable health advice? Below is a brief recap of your Valued Member Benefits:

Valued Member Benefits

- Disease Prevention and Treatment medical reference book. Jam-packed with lifesaving therapies backed by thousands of scientific research studies, this book details novel solutions for diseases and disorders that plague millions. From Alzheimer's to cancer; from fibromyalgia to obesity; from skin aging to trauma; and the list goes on. The book highlights specific recommendations that incorporate dietary supplements, hormones, and FDA-approved drugs that are available to you. When life-enhancing studies are published, Life Extension reviews and incorporates them into easy-to-understand medical protocols that provide guidance to tackle many of today's disorders.
- A subscription to Life Extension magazine ($59.88 per year newsstand value). The latest findings in medical research from around the globe, news on nutrients to enhance your health and vitality, and profiles of people who have achieved the perfect balance of physical and mental health—all can be found in the over 100-page Life Extension magazine each month.
- Membership in our exclusive Life Extension Foundation Buyers Club that entitles you to discounts of 25% to 50% on pharmaceutical quality nutrients and dietary supplements. Not only do we provide you with the highest quality nutrients on the market, they are yours for much less than what commercial suppliers charge.
- A copy of the Directory of Life Extension Technologies. This is a comprehensive listing of the highest quality supplements, hormones, and nutrients that extensive scientific research has shown to be beneficial for optimal health. It highlights hundreds of pharmaceutical-grade products that are scientifically balanced to provide the same potencies used in successful clinical trials.

- Toll-free telephone or e-mail access to our knowledgeable advisors, doctors, and oncology experts who will spend time with you to answer your questions or concerns about your personal health issues.
- Mail-order blood testing from anywhere in the United States. Not only do you get the convenience of getting your blood drawn in your area, you'll receive your results in the mail and can speak to one of our highly trained advisors about your test results.
- Considered one of the best websites in the industry, the Life Extension website (www.lef.org) features health information and news that can make a difference in your life. Read reviews from world-wide scientific journals and other online health sources that can help you lead a longer, healthier life. Get critical health news from our archived magazine issues.
- The option of receiving free e-mail updates on exciting new findings, nutrients, and trends in health and anti-aging.
- Free dietary supplements from the Life Extension Foundation Buyers Club (worth $129 retail pricing) with your paid membership renewal.

Member Rewards Program Category Change

When you renew your Life Extension Foundation membership, you will automatically be sent an updated Life Extension membership card with your new expiration date. On the date you renew your membership, your total Life Extension Buyers Club purchases, minus returns or refunds, for the previous 12 months will be calculated and your new Member Rewards category determined.

IV. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Is there a waiting period before I begin receiving benefits?

A. No. Your Member Reward benefits start as soon as you join the Life Extension Foundation. All new members are sent a Life Extension Foundation membership card with their new membership kit. Renewing members are sent an updated card with their renewal gifts. This card entitles you to benefits from the Life Extension Foundation Buyers Club and from its program partners.

Q. *Is there a fee to participate in the Member Rewards program?

A. There is no fee to participate in Life Extension's Member Rewards program. As a Life Extension Foundation member, you are automatically enrolled in our Member Rewards program. However, there is a monthly fee to sign up for the Life Extension Medical Discount Card. Some program partners also charge a fee to participate, but Life Extension has negotiated special rates for Foundation members. Other program partners offer discounts on services. Additional details are discussed in section VI of this booklet.

Q. *How do I enroll in any of the partner programs?

A. Some program partners ask that you mention a specific plan code or that you show your Life Extension Foundation membership card. Please refer to section VI for details on each partner program.

Q. *Will Life Extension be adding any other benefits to the Member Rewards program?

A. Life Extension strives to continually add value to the Member Rewards program. New program partners and reward level benefits updates will be posted as they are added on the Member Rewards web page at www.LifeExtension.com/rewards

Q. *Can I use my Life Extension Medical Discount Card to get additional discounts on Life Extension products or blood testing services?

A. No. The medical discount card can only be used for prescription medicines, vision services, chiropractic services, hearing services, dental services, and primary or specialized care physicians. Also, the Life Extension Medical Discount Card cannot be used in conjunction with any other health benefit or health insurance plan.

Q. *If I renew my membership early, what time period do you use to determine my Member Rewards classification?

A. If you renew your membership early, your Member Rewards classification will be determined based on the previous twelve months activity from the date you renew your membership. Your member expiration day will remain the same but be extended by a year, based on your renewal purchase. For example, if you are due to expire on February 31, 2004, and purchase your one-year renewal on February 1, 2004, your member rewards classification will be based on your purchases from February 1, 2003 to January 31, 2004. And, the new expiration date of your Life Extension Foundation membership will be February 31, 2005.

Q. What if my category changes just one or two months after I renew my membership; will I receive a new membership card reflecting my new membership status?

A. No. Your membership status will only change each time you renew your card based on your previous 12 months purchases.

Q. What if I lose my membership card?

A. Just call Life Extension at 1-800-544-4440, and we will gladly send you a replacement card.

Q. Can I get an additional card for an immediate family member?
